Boating regulation for Danube section between Beuron and Herbertingen-Hundersingen

Dear visitor!

Welcome to the Upper Danube Nature Park. The upper Danube is an unaffected river section surrounded by unique splendid landscape. We are pleased, that you have selected this wonderful region as a holiday destination. Here you can find recreation and adventure in the midst of an extraordinary natural landscape. The Upper Danube offers fantastic opportunities for boating in pristine scenery but is also a site that needs to be protected due to its important and rare wildlife. Our aim is to enable conflict free boating whilst also minimizing any potential risk to wildlife. To achieve this goal boating had to be limited. This was done through a legal decree of the administrative district office in Sigmaringen (for more information look www.landkreis-sigmaringen.de).

Accordingly in principle boating in the river section between Beuron and Hundersingen is prohibited all year round. Nevertheless, to ensure that boaters can enjoy the river, the administrative district office Sigmaringen in consultation with other stakeholders elaborated and approved some exceptions in an environmentally acceptable extent. Therefore a limited number of boats per day are provided for private users, clubathlets and commercial boat hirers. Please understand that boating is allowed only with registration.

In addition, the restrictions due to a low water level have to be considered.
